

Announcing Discontinuation of Our Mail Order Business, DAYLILIES

Our nursery of 128 Acres is devoted primarily to local landscape service; to evergreens, shade trees, flowering trees and flowering shrubs.

We discontinued mail order activity, excepting daylilies, many years ago.

We are now discontinuing daylilies likewise, with the exception of Dr. Stout's seedlings, yet to be introduced.

CLOSE OUT PRICE LIST, SUMMER - FALL, 1956

Prices are reduced to half and third of catalog listing. There is only one condition: i.e., Please do not send any payment with your order.

There will be sold out items. We will book and ship only what can be supplied and will mail the invoice after shipping, thus avoiding involved bookkeeping, refunds, etc. Please, therefore, order only on "Open account, 30 days."

If any question as to quality, mail the plants back to us at our expense. Trueness to name is guaranteed. Free replacement, or full refund, if any unlikely untrueness. No time limit.

Note to dealers: Lots of 25 or more, one kind, at half of the "one each" prices, while they last.

1956 DAYLILY INTRODUCTIONS

by Dr. A. B. Stout

As announced in Jan.-Feb. 1956 issue of The Garden Journal, published by New York Botanical Garden. Shipments now to previous purchasers of new Stout introductions, subject to present supply being adequate.

AUGUST GLOW. For lateness. Blooms with and after August Pioneer, but is lower, with even-toned, coppery buff color like Copperpiece. Profusely branched and budded like Port. Late July to Sept. 10th. 30 inches. $5.00.

AUTUMN KING. Extremely late and extremely free.
An improvement to previously unsurpassed Autumn Prince. 1—Larger and clearer. 2—More constant, every day blooms. 3—Better framework of branches for distribution of bloom. 4—More glow and life to color. 6-8 branches, 40-50 buds to one scape. Blooms 4-inch spread, clear and uniform shade of cadmium yellow. Late August to October frosts. 4-5 feet. $5.00.

CANDELABRUM. Early. Clusters, or heads, of up to 30 small gold, maroon tinted, sprightly blooms at tips of 24-30" scapes. Bred from a distinct Asiatic species. Doubt if any other daylily like it in culture. Early to late June. 30 inches. $5.00.

CHANCELLOR. For lateness and size. Bloom is as large (5 inches) as the general class of summer blooms. Rosy red, close to Rose Gem, but a month later. First of a Stout group which will bring summer sizes and colors into the August to October garden. Many strong and well spaced branches. 5 feet. $5.00.

CHARMAINE QUEEN. Improved Pink. Descendant of Charmaine, retaining strong substance. Larger, to 6-inch spread. Coral pink with bright red midzone. Mid-July to mid-August. 36-40 inches. $5.00.

GOLDFINCH. Early. Mignon Class. Many small and uniformly bright golden yellow blooms from black buds on many wiry, black tipped scapes. Late June to early August. The fall, repeat, bloom is usually more profuse and more extended than the earlier bloom. 36-40 inches.

JENNIE LOVE. Another selection from Dr. Stout's improvements on Rosalind and Charmaine, the first pink daylilies. Jennie Love has petals that are fuller and larger than Charmaine, with graceful and attractive recurvings. Also deeper pink than Charmaine, with general aspect of bright reddish pink. Mid-July to mid-Aug. 40-45 inches. (Named after Dr. Stout's sister-in-law.) $5.00.

LIEBCHEN. Early and late. Mignon class. Sister to Goldfinch, but two-toned gold and brownish red. May, June and again in September, October. 24-30 inches. $5.00.

LIEBLING. Early season. Mignon class. Sister to Goldfinch. Yellow tinted tan with conspicuous mid-zone of brownish red, burnt sienna. June and again in September. 24-30 inches. $5.00.

PENELOPE STOUT. General effect is pink, but actually an unusual composite of five colors. Green throat. Golden base. Bisected pale yellow. Coral-red mid-zone. Buff margin. Strong scapes. Many branches. 4-inch spread. Long season. July-Aug. 30-36 inches. (Named after Dr. Stout's pioneer ancestor.) $5.00.

STATUESQUE. Tall, most upstanding, most profuse and most attractive foliage of any daylily. Topped by an unmatched profusion of slightly ruffled, clear and full yellow, 3-inch blooms thru worst weather for long season. Early July to Mid-August. 3 feet of foliage with bloom at 4½-5 foot level. $5.00.
